

Associate or Special Counsel - Antitrust

Farella Braun + Martel LLP, is a leading Northern California law firm deeply rooted in San Francisco, seeks a skilled and highly qualified antitrust litigation associate or special counsel with at least two years of litigation experience to join our nationally recognized antitrust litigation practice. The candidate should have a strong academic record from a highly ranked law school and previous experience as a federal judicial clerk or experience with a government enforcer. We offer the opportunity for a signing bonus, as well as a market-leading clerkship bonus for highly qualified candidates.

Our antitrust practice is unique. We represent both plaintiffs and defendants in high-profile conduct cases across a variety of industries in courts across the nation. We also represent state attorneys general nationwide in both merger and conduct matters, and we handle both civil and criminal matters. This is an opportunity to join a dynamic and growing antitrust practice, with an opportunity to shape and lead that practice. Our team is outstanding, led by respected lawyers in the field. For more information regarding the individuals in our group, see Christopher Wheeler, Alexis Loeb, and Dylan Silva. In addition, the candidate also may work on the firm's other varied and high-stakes business litigation and government enforcement matters.

Our associates gain early, hands-on responsibility in case strategy, depositions, motion practice, client counseling, and trial work. For example, our associates have recently examined CEOs on the witness stand, cross-examined experts, and argued pre-trial motions in high-stakes federal and state trials, contributing directly to significant client victories.

What Sets Us Apart

- Lean Teams: Our lean staffing model ensures significant responsibility and meaningful client interaction.
- Early Courtroom Exposure: Associates play active roles in trial strategy and execution.
- Collaborative Culture: Farella's single office in San Francisco promotes a strong sense of community and a uniquely collegial culture.
- Respected Reputation: Our litigators are leaders in the legal community and recognized among the top trial lawyers in California.
- Support for Pro Bono and Rule of Law: Farella lawyers have been active in prominent matters protecting the rule of law, representing clients such as high-ranking former national security officials and researchers at the University of California.

The annual base compensation range for this California position is between $222,500 and $352,500. In addition, for appropriate candidates, Farella is prepared to offer market leading clerkship and signing bonuses up to $150,000. Placement within the salary range depends upon a number of factors, including but not limited to years of relevant experience and professional skills required for this role. Additional compensation may include discretionary hours-based and additional bonuses, health/welfare benefits, vacation and leave time (including parental and sabbatical), and paid holidays.

In-person attendance and collaboration enable us to provide excellent client service and is critical to an Associate's professional development. This position requires working a minimum 3 days on average in the San Francisco office.
