Ezekiel Gorrocino is a member of Farella Braun + Martel's Family Wealth Group, part of the firm's Private Client Services Industry Group.

During law school, Ezekiel was an intern at Andersen Tax, LLC in its State and Local Tax Group and a law clerk for the Office of Legal Counsel at the East Bay Municipal Utility District. He also helped low-income taxpayers at the UC Hastings Low-Income Taxpayer Clinic. In 2015, he graduated from the Coro Fellows Program in Public Affairs, and in 2018, he was selected as one of the Pete Garcia Fellows by the National Association for Latino Community Asset Builders.

Outside the Office

Ezekiel enjoys baking, reading historical fiction and economics books, traveling with his partner, and has the goal of visiting all of the different Pueblos Magicos (Magic Towns) of Mexico.
