Farella
Braun + Martel

Raven Quesenberry

Associate

rquesenberry@fbm.com
San Francisco: 415.954.4403

Services

- Intellectual Property
- Patent Litigation
- Trade Secrets Litigation
- Technology

Education

- Stanford Law School (J.D., 2022)
  - Senior editor, Stanford Law and Policy Review
  - Prisoner Advocacy and Resources Coalition
  - Latinx Law Students Association
  - National Lawyers Guild
- New York University (B.A., 2019)

Bar Admissions

- California, 2022

Raven Quesenberry represents clients in intellectual property litigation and other commercial disputes, with a focus on trade secrets, patent infringement, and data scraping matters.

Her experience includes drafting dispositive and discovery motions at several stages of complex litigation, preparing fact and expert witnesses for deposition, preparing written discovery, and drafting patent claim charts. Raven recently worked on a team defending a computer company against infringement allegations across eight patents, including drafting several pretrial motions and conducting prior art investigations.

Raven provides prelitigation advice for clients facing potential trade secrets and data scraping liability. She delivers comprehensive risk analysis and best practices for her clients, with careful attention to balancing their business interests and exposure in a rapidly evolving legal landscape.

Raven maintains an active pro bono practice with an emphasis on immigration law. She has represented several clients in asylum and other immigration proceedings.

During law school, Raven was an extern at the Office of the Federal Public Defender in the District of Nevada. She was a student attorney in Stanford's Immigrants' Rights Clinic and a law clerk at Legal Aid at Work.

Raven is admitted to the State Bar of California.

Publications

April 17, 2025
Reassignment on Remand Highlights Tension Between District Courts, Federal Circuit in Patent Cases

November 1, 2024
The Federal Circuit Clarifies Who Can Be an Expert in Patent Cases
The Intellectual Property Strategist

January 31, 2024
Is the Copyright Threat to Generative AI Overhyped? Implications of Kadrey v. Meta

January 29, 2024
Major Decision Affects Law of Scraping and Online Data Collection, Meta Platforms v. Bright Data

January 27, 2023
How To Avoid Allegations of Trade Secret Misappropriation in California
Daily Journal

January 18, 2023
Under FTC's New Proposed Rule, Employers Will No Longer Be Able to Rely on Noncompete

Agreements

December 22, 2022
What Recent Rulings in 'hiQ v. LinkedIn' and Other Cases Say About the Legality of Data Scraping
The Recorder

November 9, 2022
How Companies Can Stop Trade Secret Disclosure in California
Bloomberg Law

November 9, 2022
One Pending Supreme Court Case Could Change the Internet as We Know It: Gonzalez v. Google and Tech Platforms' Liability

Outside the Office

When she's not in the office, Raven aims to stay outdoors and active. She loves weight lifting, hiking around the Bay Area with her dog, and hunting for the perfect burrito.