Victoria Constance Huang represents clients in intellectual property and commercial litigation matters, with a focus on patents, trade secrets, and trademarks.

Victoria's litigation practice spans the federal district courts, the Patent Trial and Appeal Board (PTAB), the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC), and arbitration. She has experience drafting pleadings, petitions for PTAB inter partes review, dispositive motions, written discovery, and infringement and invalidity contentions. She has assisted in the taking and defending of depositions and prepared technical experts for depositions and expert reports. Collaborating with clients' engineers she has developed non-infringement strategies.

Victoria's practice also includes assisting clients in evaluating trademarks, assessing the strength of patent portfolios, and enforcing intellectual property rights through demand letters. She has analyzed patents, trade secrets, trademarks, technical specifications, commercial contracts, non-disclosure agreements, and licenses in litigation and pre-litigation matters.

Victoria served as a judicial extern for the Honorable Haywood S. Gilliam, Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California and as an advisor to the Permanent Mission of the Republic of the Marshall Islands in Geneva, Switzerland.

Her pro bono experience includes counseling clients on asylum applications and renewals and assisting former foster youth with identity fraud issues.

Outside the Office

Victoria enjoys leveraging long layovers, planning arbitrarily themed nights in, and reading food memoirs.
